...department include $50,000 for additional care and hospitalization for tubercular patients, $25,000 for the establishment of three additional health units, $20,000 to cover increased charges for hospital care, a further $20,000 for care of increased number of patients in mental hospitals, and $150,000 for payments under the Mothers Allowance Act.
It should be remembered that last year this government assumed the cost of the care and hospitalization of tubercular patients, and also relieved the municipalities of fifty per cent of their costs with respect to mothers allowances. In the estimates of this department of agriculture you will note a new appropriation of $100,000 to the administration of the Livestock and Livestock Products Act, and increased appropriations are provided for district agricultural and veterinary services. Under the public works department you will note an increase in expenditures of $200,000, mainly for the maintenance of highways and bridges, and these increased expenditures are considered necessary for the present fiscal year.
The estimated revenue is as follows, and you have in the estimates the figures for the present fiscal year.

An estimated net decrease of $1,285,831, as compared with the estimates for the present fiscal year.

APPROPRIATION DECREASE
You will note that the appropriation for interest on the public debt shows a decrease of $2,487,676 for the present year. The government is endeavoring to pay the interest on the public debt by the sale of government bonds. This is a very wise policy, as it allows the government to raise the money it needs without increasing the tax burden on the people. The government is also making a large effort to reduce its expenditures, and it is hoped that this will result in a further decrease in the interest payments on the public debt.

Wednesday's readings, no Thursday's expected, just yet, the forecast being "fair and moderately cold." The red line just managed to top the freezing point at 3 p.m. Thursday, when the highest temperature for the day, 33 above, was registered. From that time on the mercury dropped steadily, to wind up the fall at 17 above, the lowest reading up to 9 a.m. Friday. The two lowest points at that time were Hudson Hope and Fort St. John, with 21 above.

WAR SCARE BUYING

Wheat on the Winnipeg market this week reached the highest price since 1930. A member of the House of Commons said this is not because the world surplus has been eaten up; but in fact it has only been moving to Europe where it is being held as a food reserve in case war should break out.

The war scare is being credited with doing good in about as many directions as war itself does evil. Forbid that Canadian should wish Europe had gone just a little further, and a pity it people didn't think of buying in wheat reserves some years ago, when Canada had more to sell and the price was running high.

But perhaps that wheat would have done Canada any good. The wheat board of that day didn't sell wheat or try to. It just bought wheat with taxpayer money and sold it in elevators for years to destroy, while carrying charges were added monthly to the cost and the mounting surplus helped to depress world prices.

TRY IT ON HEBURNE

Mr. Fortin has got around to Moore law, and the public to the admen they need not worry any more. Mr. Fortin is a man of interest. He is willing to say what rates there will be to pay after the outstanding bonds mature, as in the case of Edmonton, and is not interested in the rate to cut the rates named in the bond contracts.

It is to be said for the bondmen that they are playing no favorites. All cities look alike to them. They are agreeable to extending their investments on terms set by themselves, but not one jot or tittle may be looked for in the way interest reduction until present bond issues expire.

This attitude of indifference to any consideration but the letter of the contract is based on confidence that the provinces and provincial governments will not intervene to prevent the bondmen imposing their will upon the debtor cities. It is evidently taken for granted that the legislature will do nothing to cut the demands and force a revision of rates, whatever may be the difficulties and the prospective results to the cities.

It would be interesting to see Mr. Fortin try to lay down the law in this almighty way to the cities of Ontario. One has an instinctive notion that Premier Heburn would have something to say about it.

WORK TICKETS FOR DIVIDENDS

Instead of the proposed $25 a month, each resident of the province of Alberta is to get a ticket—for a cash consideration—telling him at what occupation the Government of the province will permit him to earn a living any.

This is the gist of a bill now before the legislature, which it is proposed to translate into law under the heading "The Licensing of Trades and Businesses Act, 1937." The Act is to "apply to all trades, businesses, industries and occupations" as pleasure of the legislature.

Assuming the intention is to apply it impartially, every trade, business, industry or occupation in the province is to be brought under license, and every person engaged in carrying on any trade, business, industry or occupation must be registered. That such is the intention is reflected in a departmental circular to the Calgary Alberta, stating that the Act is not designed to raise revenue but to make uniform the licensing of businesses and persons so that there will be no discrimination in the treatment thereof. That takes in everybody.

If the scope of the bill is all-inclusive, the classes are microscopic in their attention to detail. And beyond that, they are outside the Government to draw up regulations as to the terms upon which licenses and regulations may be obtained, as to the carrying on of trades and occupations under license and regulations, and
as to suspending or cancelling them.

Anyone who violates any of the regulations is yet unknown—yet a fine of $250 or acting for a body corporate and of $50 if acting for himself, and in the event of non-payment may be sent to jail for 60 days.

If the Minister of Trade and Industry thinks anyone has violated any of the regulations he may suspend or cancel the license of the offending party. And beyond that, they are outside the Government to draw up regulations as to the
terms upon which licenses and regulations may be obtained, as to the carrying on of trades and
occupations under license and regulations, and
as to suspending or cancelling them.

THIS IS ALBERTA

In the course of discussion it may be explained whether this bill is modelled on an edition of Mussolini, a fist of Hitler or a udder of Stalin. If the people of Alberta are to be classified, ticketed, registered, numbered and regulated after the fashion prevailing in continental Europe, they at least have a right to know which particular pattern is being followed, and whether the basic idea is fascism, nazism or collectivism.

A preliminary to seriously considering the enactment of any such measure the members of the legislature should first explain where they get license, mandate or permission to do the kind of the kind. This is not the people of the province voted for eighteen months ago on any other occasion. They voted for more liberty, not less; for dividends, not work tickets; for a larger freedom, not for serfdom on any of the current European models.

That they are not to get the dividends is bad enough. To substitute for dividends a system that would put everyone in the province on the basis of inmates of a penal colony, barring the dividend, is something that has not been asked for nor sanctioned—and will not be tolerated.

Where, in the great play of fancy, was the idea that the sixty-three persons who constitute the legislative assembly of Alberta can exercise slave-owner power over the persons as well as the property of the people of the province? For, supposing under the unlimited powers conferred by this bill, the Minister of Trade and Industry chooses to cancel a man's license to work? Is the victim supposed to go away and starve quietly in a fence corner?

This bill is a piece of general legislation intended to accomplish a particular purpose—the placing of Alberta newspapers under license.
That was threatened directly, but the provincial convention of the Social Credit party resolved to extend the bill. Wherefore it is proposed to place the newspapers under license, the merchant under license, the manufacturer under license, the farmer, the miner, the hired man under license, the servant girl under license, all at the pleasure, or the whim, of the Minister of Trade and Commerce.

It is not possible to understand the stand for licensing the press they are to be licensed to exercise, along with all other residents of the province, and the right to live and work, living unless the Minister of Trade and Industry sees fit to give them license.

May the following pertinent quotation of the members of the legislative assembly:

"You can't jail a whole country!"—Right

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

QUESTION: Mr. Leo O. wants to know:
"Every one in a while my skin seems to slip out of place and because I am afraid that my hip will give way on me, I find it necessary to wear with a cane. It seems as though that hip joint is not working right."

ANSWER: It is advisable for you to secure an examination of your hip joint, including the use of X-ray pictures. In this way you will find out whether the bones slip out of place, or whether the hip becomes dislocated through muscular weakness or some other cause.

QUESTION: Mrs. Bertha G. writes: "Could you tell me any easy way to remember which foods are starches?"

ANSWER: The grains, the legumes, and the vegetables classed as "tubers" which grow under the ground are the chief starches. A good example of a starch food made from grain is bread, while a good example of a legume containing starch is bean, and the most common starchy tuber is the potato. I believe that you will be helped if you will send for my article BEST STARCHY FOODS. Any one wishing a copy of this article may obtain it through writing to me and enclosing one large, self-addressed envelope. The article will give you a list of the common starches which you may keep in your kitchen and refer to from time to time.

QUESTION: Ernest B. inquires: "What is the difference between arterial hardening and arterial hypertension, or are they the same thing?" ANSWER: Arterial hardening refers to what is popularly called hardening of the arteries and arterial hypertension refers to high blood pressure. Both may exist together, and commonly produce the symptom you mention.

The Passing Show

By J. S. COWPER
Some good friends that were waiting for the Alberta's are that waiting to "tender the Greeks when they bear gifts." The sudden withdrawal of the government caused its opposition to the Premier spending public money and taking time to go to the Coronation ceremonies in London while there is so much poverty and want in the province, looks significant.

Conditions in Alberta are worse today than when Mr. Albertin in a sermon back East told of women on the farms who were obliged to hide their nakedness, eating scraps for food and of lines of parked automobiles in the streets whose owners could not afford to buy gasoline to make them run.

Under these circumstances, to spend the people's money on such an expensive jaunt as a trip to the Coronation, is to invite criticism from the section of the public that still remains loyal to the hope of receiving dividends.
The government's cause is well aware of this;
that is why the withdrawal of their opposition seems significant.

blood, but was so weakened and helpless that his condition seemed desperate. His only companion was a black and white dog of the Ordered again to go "home," the faithful and

At daybreak next morning, Higgins' family were awakened by hearing "Red" scratching and whining at the door. They set a bowl of milk and a piece of meat, and when the dog had across his bunk, helpless from loss of blood.

They tended him and next morning brought him to a doctor.

The story of Higgins' rescue goes to "Red" but for his intelligence and faith, Higgins would have perished miserably in the shack.

What To Do

By Phyllis Belmont

Answer—You are right in thinking the bride's parents are the proper persons to send out bouquets. It is the first time a girl is married, or she is a divorcee or a widow. The announcement of a divorced woman would read like this:

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Greenwood have the honor to announce the marriage of their daughter, Fredrick Pearson

Mr. Frederick Westworth, etc.

But if the parents of the bride are dead, then her nearest relatives may announce her marriage. Only if the woman is of mature years and without any living relatives would the newly married couple be the announcement themselves. The proper form would be:

Mrs. John Paul Brown

Mr. Franklin Seward Wallington

Have the honor to announce, etc.

WET OR DRY RETURN

By Roger B. Whitman

Question—For a steam heating system, what is the difference between a dry and a wet return? Which is preferred?

Answer—A dry return is a continuation of the steam main lying under the ceiling and keeping about the same slope to the boiler, when it drops vertically to the boiler and is connected to the boiler at the bottom. Water from the radiators produced by condensation runs through the return to the boiler. In a wet return, the steam main beyond the last radiator turns down and returns to the boiler either under or along the floor. All of the part of the pipe that is below the water level of the boiler remains filled with water.

With a wet return, a large body of water is available for the boiler in the event of a leak; but before entering the boiler, water in the pipe is cold. With a dry return, water enters the boiler while it is still hot. A dry return is preferred for this reason, and also because a leak is visible and easily corrected. A leak in a wet return under the floor cannot be seen, and repairs are expensive.

FUEL CONSUMPTION

Question—How much more fuel will be consumed with a thermostat setting of 75 degrees instead of 70?

Answer—A difference of 1 degree makes a difference of about 3.1 per cent in fuel consumption. Warming a house to 75 degrees therefore takes 15.5 per cent more fuel than heating it to 70 degrees.

NOISY TIN ROOF

Question—A bay window extension has a tin roof, and in a heavy rain it is very noisy. Would any kind of paint stop the noise?

Answer—No, you will need more than that. The tin is not in tight contact with the roof boards, and acts like a drumhead. To kill the noise, nail the tin to the roof boards with flat head galvanized nails, using a lead washer on each to prevent leakage. Then lay roofing felt over the tin, stick down with liquid asphalt, coat the felt with asphalt and cover with pebbles.

PARIS, March 12.—The French parliament completed today the debate of the loan to the discredited Premier, Louis Blum, finance bill for a $175,000,000 defence loan.

The number of deputies voting 474 to 39, gave final adoption to the measure by accepting Senate limitation of the loan to the designated figure. The Senate approved the bill, after France's armed forces struck 228 to zero.

An avalanche of desert—Chocolate-Banana Mountain with a bank of whipped cream. For heroes—and makes a heroine out of even the beginner cook.

Scalded milk and vanilla, then beat well. Pour this mixture into well-buttered 1 1/2 quart heat resistant glass baking dish. Bake in slow oven (300 degrees F.) for 45 minutes. It is done when knife inserted comes out clean.

When cool, top with whipped cream and sliced bananas. Serve from the dish it was baked in. Yes, you've guessed it—this is certainly a gala dessert.

And, as one gala event deserves another, take a try at this historical habit of food loving Americans, both early and modern.

BOSTON CREAM PIE (12 layers)

Three tablespoons butter, 6 tablespoons softened, 1 1/2 cup granulated sugar, 1 teaspoon vanilla extract, 3 eggs, 3/4 cup sifted cake flour, 2 teaspoons baking powder, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1 cup milk.

Cream butter and shortening thoroughly, then a little at a time add the sugar, continue to cream until mixture is fluffy. Add vanilla and unbeaten eggs, one at a time. Beat until mixture is light. Measure and sift dry ingredients together. Add alternately with milk. Pour into greased pie tin.

Mix all dry ingredients, then add milk and vanilla. Beat until the mixture is smooth. Then add milk and egg, beat thoroughly. Beat egg well, then beat together with the second 1/4 cup granulated sugar. Add to the mixture, then cook another 15 minutes. Remove from fire, add vanilla extract and strain to free from lumps. Pour into shallow pan, cover with wax paper, and cool.

To assemble this formidable sweet, split cakes through center, then spread cream filling about 1/2 inch thick on bottom layer. Place top layer of cake over cream, capricious top with powdered sugar, a little less than 1/4 cup.

Your Children - By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

It is no wonder that the mother of a tiny child is confused when she goes to buy new shoes. Shall they be high or low? Shall they be heavy, sturdy ones to keep the feet braced, or soft little affairs to allow muscles full play, and the feet to do their own bracing?

I have bought many a pair of tender skin varieties of good advice that I now depend on my own judgment.

I have discovered this much, that if shoes are level along their entire sole, but enough to allow for the foot without rubbing either heel or toes, whole enough to keep the feet weather and suitable enough for muskies to work, the rest is not important, except in special cases.

One time I was buying "low-cut" shoes for a two-year-old in a very good store. The clerk was so upset that I changed my mind and purchased a pair of high-top shoes. "De-fo-and-so," he mentioned a well-known brand, "never come down low shoes for children of two or under."

OTHERS' LOWER LIMIT

I asked another "foot" man about it later, and he lowered the limit to one year. Another doctor wrote that babies first walking shoes should be as soft as the bare foot itself. But I believe that most speculation prevaricating the stake.

If there is the least tendency for an ankle to bulge or turn, there is certainly no choice. Some children have to wear the higher shoes for several years.

What a difference there is now with our common-sense shoes for growing children, over the old days when no one thought that feet were important. The price went into fancy buttons or velvet tops and if children could walk in them, they didn't pinch too hard that was just fine.

It is excellent for all children to take off their shoes and run about the house a lot and barefoot. It is also a good idea for them to put hands on knees, and lift themselves up and down on heels. It takes only a few moments and both ankle and muscle are strengthened.

RED CHILD'S COMPLAINTS

If a child complains that there is a rough place inside his shoe, or something that rubs, and we see him "sneezing" that place and walking crooked or limping, we had best look into the shoes at once and see what can be done. May be it has grown too short for his feet.

A few weeks of walking crooked can upset the bone-modernity, a condition that may persist. Crooked feet show the least degree of time. If a child wears one heel down, or the other flat, or the other the outside or inside, he is not walking right and may possibly need professional attention. Crooked heels should be repaired when they begin to stand.

As for our two-year-olds and less, the matter is a delicate feet and the parents' own good judgment, let us say, unless a specialist is giving specific advice for certain reasons, and the thing to do then is to listen, and to take it.

Temperature of the feet in creases one degree F. for every 10 feet of depth, according to estimate.

Women Want Reps on Boards Of Education

OTTAWA, March 12.—The advisory committee of the National Federation of Liberal Women of Canada, in its annual meeting here today adopted a resolution endorsing the principle that there should be women in provincial boards of education and vocational and agricultural boards of education. the social round

This bi-lingual business is a great thing. We experienced quite a thrill this week when we discovered that we actually knew a few friends in the French play "La Separation," at the drama festival this week.

And when a certain phrase fell clearly upon our ears we felt we were in the company of a French play. The "Advantages of a higher education" was the title of the play. We were very interested in the play. We were very interested in the play.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Lang, noted traveler and poet who is in Edmonton this week in the course of a Dominion-wide lecture under the auspices of the C.P.R., has already spoken 30 times, exchanging greetings by telling Canadian tales.

He has spent much time in world travel, but Dr. Lang knows Canada—was born in Ontario, occupied the highest of St. Andrews Church in St. John, New Brunswick for seven years, was the minister in Blount Street Church in Toronto for three years, and has lived in every province in the Dominion.

Receiving his education at McMaster College, New College, Edinburgh and Union Theological Seminary in New York City, he has several degrees, including M.A. and Doctor of Divinity.

His recent glimpse of the lives and customs of the people in "Our Separation" was the Pacific, is enhanced by the beautifully colored pictures of Dr. Lang showing his mountain and other scenes. Mrs. Gordon Gray, the president, introduced the speaker.

No one knows how old the sun is, but it must have had a beginning, and, likewise, by every scientific theory, it must come to an end, but there is no evidence that it will not be good for many thousands of millions of years to come. The sun's color indicates to scientists that it is a star on the decline.

Over The Speaker

By E. S. WOODWARD

For the second time during the session, a cabinet minister spoke on the speech from the throne yesterday. Hon. Lester Pearson, minister of finance, was the first to speak. He came well equipped and offered a good defence of the government's last year's budget.

First he defended the administration of relief which he claimed had given general satisfaction until the spring of 1936. Some of these, said the minister, were present in the galleries while he was speaking. At this point he seemed well aware of the menace of such speakers.

Later in his speech, when quoting the literature issued by financial institutions, which also referred to the speaker, he ridiculed the idea that agitators had any power to cause trouble. Every cabinet member seemed to indicate that most men are prone to view with disfavour those who stir up opposition against themselves. As soon as agitation is successful in its objectives the agitators themselves become silent and cease further agitation.

In meeting the criticism that ministers had not themselves accepted property certificates as part of their salaries, Mr. Maynard stated that he personally had received $1300 and had not caused any portion of it but had kept it in circulation.

Dealing with debt legislation Mr. Maynard confined himself to showing that reduction of interest rates is justified by the condition of the province. He quoted from the Edmonton Bulletin to prove that a non-Social Credit newspaper also took the same view.

As a matter of fact there has been little difference of opinion expressed on that point. The difference arises in the method of its powers and therefore in the effectiveness of its objectives. The interest rates stand exactly as they did before it passed the legislation.

But the case for dealing with debt was well presented by the minister and the spirit of determination in pursuit of the objective received the approval of his audience.

The ability of the financial community to grant reductions of private debts in Alberta was an effective part of the speech. Quoting from the financial papers, he showed the large difference in pain and which were continuing to be paid by the lending firms and institutions such as mortgage, loan, insurance companies and other financial institutions which had been placed in a position where they could have granted all that Alberta desired without impacting their solvency.

Mr. Maynard was less impressive when he demanded that the financial institutions produce their books and subject themselves to examination by the financial advisers of the government. Obviously they like the financial institutions are not asking the government to grant them any favours as they are not asking to produce their books. It is the province that is asking for a variation in the terms of the contract. Under these circumstances the province must prove its inability to keep the contract.

After ten minutes the minister dealt with the ethical and moral aspects of debt reduction. He went back to Aristotle for his philosophy. It is a well known fact that it is a well recognized fact that in accomplishing a large goal it sometimes became necessary to commit a lesser evil.

But he offered no justification for the government's decision to pursue its policy by using an unethical method. The minister frequently stated that it is impossible to borrow oneself out of debt. There is a partial truth in the statement. But governments and individuals have often repaid debts at lower interest rates and have thereby secured immediate and tangible benefit.

Mr. Maynard developed some strange views on the theory and practice of banking and the manner in which interest operates in the industrial system. The speech as a whole was suffused with a moral fervour which created a favourable impression and he received a good hand from an audience which had listened with respectful attention.

The budget will be brought down today without question. And the provincial treasury must be well prepared with his budget speech. He would not have spent the afternoon in the House if he thought much for the night. He and Mr. Poirer have devoted to the task for them to have the budget ready at this early date.

There is considerable interest being displayed by the opposition in a bill standing in the name of Hon. E. C. Manning. It appears there has been a loan made to the National Food Products Limited which requires the satisfaction, confirmation, and validation of the legislature. The bill is not yet in the hands of the press but it is understood that the loan is for a sum said to be as high as $20,000.

The minister will make a statement on the second reading of the bill as to the reason for the loan, the security taken therefor, and whether or not the loan is regarded as recoverable. The opposition displayed much interest when the motion was introduced this afternoon and the interest will be sustained until the minister is fully engaged.

METROPOLITAN LIFE BUSINESS SHOWS GROWTH

Insurance in Force Increased — Welfare Work Benefits Policyholders

OTTAWA, March 8. — Economic conditions in the Dominion are reflected in the report of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, every fifth person in Canada and the United States being a policyholder in this mutual company — a general improvement in business is apparent in the 70th Annual Statement released today. The 28,000,000 policyholders increased their insurance protection in Metropolitan Life by over one billion dollars during 1936, to a total of $21,810,975,784 — the largest amount of life insurance ever in force in any company. Second Vice-President and Manager for Canada, Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, who reports an increased income in the Dominion.

Second Vice-President Harry D. Wright, Manager for Canada, commenting on the Canadian business of the company, stated that in the Dominion alone, payments to policyholders and their beneficiaries in 1936 totalled $2,885,000. He added that life insurance companies in Canada during the last five years had distributed to the people of the Dominion over $500,000,000 per day, which illustrates the very real measure of security afforded thereby Canadians through life insurance. The company's total life insurance in force in Canada has been increased to $10,605,096,301, or this amount $902,801,421 in the Dominion, which has been increased to $1,000,000,000 and upward $18,072,947 in the group department, insuring groups of employees and $204,000,000 in the Industrial Department, premiums being paid weekly or monthly.

Metropolitan continues its welfare work, and in Canada during the past year has made $79,000,000 in loans to homes of company policyholders, with $10,000,000 of insurance were distributed in the interests of wider education on health subjects.

Mr. Wright reported that Metropolitan's business in the Dominion increased during the year to a total of $270,965,606.51, and that in all major aspects of the business in Canada the year 1936 was most satisfactory.

Referring to the company's total income in Canada and the United States, the year's report shows a gain of life insurance in force of $1,041,626,208. This gain is reflected in all departments and represents a high point in the history of the company. The total income in force is now $21,810,975,784, of which 51% or $10,605,096,301 is in the Ordinary Department. The Industrial Department has 34% or $7,175,974,709, and group insurance accounts for 15% with a total of $3,238,129,605.

Assets (increased $200,000,000 in 1936 and totalled $4,494,701,772.24 on December 31st last, in this date the new assets have been $178,424,667.69 and the contingency reserve was $48,000,000).

For the fifth anniversary year the Metropolitan distributed more than half a billion dollars to its policyholders and beneficiaries in death claims, matured endowments, dividends, disability benefits and other payments. More than two-thirds of the total was paid to living policyholders — a powerful reflection of the saying that, in life insurance, "you have to live to win."

An idea of the Metropolitan's business can be conveyed by reducing the whole of these annual figures to a daily basis. For instance, the daily average of payments to beneficiaries and policyholders, also addition to reserve was $2,885,000. An average of 2,544 claims were paid every day and every day saw an average of 17,238 life insurance policies issued and revived and $2,885,000 in the insurance fund received and increased.

SERVICE STATION LOOTED OF $130

Breaking into the Monarch Service Station situated at 110 avenue and 101 street late Thursday night, thieves got away with $150 in cash and a tire and tube.

The glass in the door of the service station had been cut with a glass cutter and entrance gained by opening the door through the hole in the glass. The money had been hidden in a glass jar which had been placed on a shelf behind some boxes. The premises had been systematically searched and ransacked.
